

Rate and Review Tool Disclaimer

We hope that you enjoy using our Rate & Review tool and gain benefit from doing so.

Ideas for Ears has designed the Rate & Review tool to encourage the sharing of experiences about the way people can hear, listen, communicate and participate when visiting or using facilities or services made available to the general public. The reviews and ratings left on the site are focused on individual experience and we hope they are a helpful way to inform you. However, we cannot guarantee that the information shared on the site is factual or accurate.

We try to discourage false reviews by asking people to abide by our Rules for Submitting Content. We also make it possible for service providers to add their own comments to correct or clarify any that they perceive as being incorrect. Those who leave reviews are asked to log in (with identifiable information) and this helps to create accountability.

We provide a moderation service and will and do remove offensive posts. Please be aware, however, that we are not able to filter for accuracy.

Should you feel a post is offensive or inaccurate, please inform us at info@ideasforears.org.uk and we will endeavor to check or flag the posting in question.
